How I Made Valentine's Treats

It is the day before Valentine's Day and I just made the best treats for my class. They are going to love them. They are chocolate cupcakes with delicious icing.

I started my baking process by going to the store with mom to pick out the perfect ingredients. I bought chocolate cake mix, eggs, vegetable oil, vanilla icing, pink and red sprinkles, and conversation hearts. After we purchased everything, I headed home to start my baking.

I set out all my ingredients that I needed for baking these cupcakes. First, I poured my cake mix into a bowl, then cracked open my eggs and put them in, too. I added my vegetable oil to the eggs and cake mix, then began to stir it up. Mom said I had to stir until there were zero lumps or chunks. They and mixed, so I poured a little bit of oil on the trays. Mom put the cupcakes into the oven. They were supposed to touch it. After about 20 minutes, I took them out of the oven and let them cool down.

Now was the fun part. I got out my icing and vanilla icing on each cupcake, shook lots of sprinkles on them, and placed one little conversation heart on top of each cupcake. My friends are going to love them!
